Writing prompt

What's an important part of your daily routine? Why?

example:

I like to read on the train in the morning when I go to work and on the way home. It gets my brain going in the morning so I'm ready to think hard all day at work. Then after a long day, it's relaxing and helps me settle down and forget about stuff that might be bothering me before I get home. I can be a bit grumpy and out of it when I don't have a chance to read.
